Engineered...A week of Wonder.

Engineers Ireland's Week of Wonder gets under way tomorrow and the Society has developed a two hour workshop for young people which will act as an introduction to communications and radio technology. This will be a "hands on" experience for those participating and will demonstrate how important a part radio plays in all our everyday lives, not least of all in their most prized possession, their mobile phone. Simple circuits and basic components will be demonstrated.

Teams will compete to construct a breadboard audio oscillator and send a Morse message. Components for a hundred oscillator kits have been packaged and it is expected that five hundred young people will attend the workshops. As well as workshops in the Engineers Ireland headquarters in Dublin, clubs and individuals in Cork, Limerick, Waterford, Carlow and Athlone are running sessions.

It is expected that valuable publicity will be generated by the event as well as giving the Society the opportunity to engage with educational and commercial bodies with a view to further co-operative projects in the future.

Engineers Ireland & Limerick Radio Club

IRTS are coordinating an event being run by Engineers Ireland from February 9-13 2009, called "Engineered! A week of wonder". Limerick Radio Club has agreed to participate in the event which will be held at the Limerick Institute of Technology, Moylish, Limerick.

Further details will be announced prior to the date. Any member willing to participate in this event is asked to contact ei4lrc /at/ eircom.net.

2008 MRG SSB Challenge Results

The 2008 Annual MRG Radio Group SSB Challenge on 2 metres and 70 centimetres was held on September 14th last and attracted seven entries.

In the fixed section Charles EI5FK in Cork was the clear winner with 34 QSOs and he also had the best DX on 2 metres at 800km when he worked ON4WY in JO11lc.

Runner up in the fixed section was Pat EI8IQ in Wexford with 26 QSOs. He had the best DX on 70 centimetres at 424km with 2E1IDC in IO91tn. The portable section was a close battle between two stations from the west and the Mayo Radio Experimenters Network using the callsign EI7MRE/P had a narrow win by just 30 points over neighbours the MRG Group, EI2MRG/P. The difference was only 2 QSOs on 2 Metres.

The MRG Group expresses its thanks to all who supported the SSB Challenge and have announced that the 2009 event will take place on September 6th

Missing Saker Falcon

A request has been made by a member of the Public, to try to find a missing Saker Falcon. The Saker Falcon recently went missing in the Dublin area of Inchicore / Ballyfermot. It has been suggested that if anyone can monitor 216.10MHz FM to try to pick up her signal, which is a constant beep to contact Gerard at 086 3640975

50 MHz now available in Sweden

Swedish Radio Amateurs now have access to the 50-52 MHz band with a power output limit of 200 watts and will get access to 7.1-7.2 MHz with 1 kW output from 1st April.

Previously access to 50 MHz had been by special permit only.

Dundalk Amateur Radio Society
